A mysterious star called the Pilgrim which was observed in 945, 1264 and 1572, is expected by astronomers to appear before long. It was described in 1572 as brighter than Juniter and "such was its brilliancy that persons were able to detect it at noon in a clear sky, and at night when the sky was so overcast as to hide all other stars." If it appears it will probably be visible for several weeks in the constellation of Cassiopela.— Scientific American.

Edward Tuttle, proprietor of the Woolsey House, this city, has just assumed control of the Hotel Orange at Newburg-on-Hudson, a large and popular hotel. It will be in charge of Ed. A Terrible Accident. At North Canaan, Wednesday, as Mr. Charles Barnes was getting a blast ready in a limestone ledge there was a premature explosion which blew his head from his body. Mr. Barnes was one of the most respectable citizens of that town. He has been engaged in burning lime for many years. He was about forty years of age.

The Water Question. The special committee on water, which were to have held a meeting in room 10 City Hall last evening, did no business. The purpose of the meeting was to have the opinion of citizens regarding the purchase of the New Haven Water company's rights and fran-chises. Owing to the death of President Garfield but few citizens appeared, and the hearing was adjourned until next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. West Haven Horse Railroad.

The annual rush to the shore on the West Haven Horse railroad being over, Mr. W. W. STATE OF CONNECTICUTE.
HARTFORD, September 22, 1881.

To the People of the State of Connecticut:
It becomes my painful duty to announce the death of our beloved President, James A. Garfield. The assassin's work is accomplished, the heroic struggle for life is over, and a mighty nation mourns. Believing it to be highly atting that the people of this commonwealth should unite in giving some public ex-pression to the grief which is so profoundly felt by all within our borders, I hereby recommend that on Monday, the 26th inst. the day of final sepulture, all itizens abstain from engaging in their usual occu-ations and unite, in such manner as may seem ap-ropriate, in signifying their respect for the memory our deceased chief magistrate. I also suggest, as a mple but not unfitting token of mourning, that the hour of burial be recognized by the tolling of church bells throughout the State. So much we may at least do to indicate our heart-felt sorrow over the great loss which the nation has sustained, and our deep appreciation of the eminent ability, sterling charac-ter and exalted patriotism of the man whose name now goes upon the page of history as one of Ameri-ca's noblest and most illustrious sons. HOBART B. BISELOW, GOVERNOR.

SPECIAL ORDERS, NO. 102. STATE OF CONNECTICUT.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, HARTFORD, Sept. 22, 1881. The Quartermaster General will on Monday, Seplate lamented President James A. GARFIELD, cause a dute to be fired on the Capitol Park of thirteen guns at sunrise, one gun every half hour during the day and thirty-eight guns at sunset. By order of the Commander-in-chief. GRO, M. HARMON, Adjutant-General.

Dr. Judson says that Ellen Early, who was hit over the head by James Flynn about ten days ago, is likely to die. Flynn, who is 65 years of age, was sent to jail for ten days. His time will be out next Saturday. It is said that Mrs. Early is deranged from the wound she received. Michael McGuire, a brakeman on the Conseticut Western ore train, was crushed to leath at Cansan Wednesday morning, while oupling cars near the depot. One was a flat ar loaded with steel rails which extended over each end. He was struck in the breast by the ends of the rails and crushed against the end of the next car, loaded with ore. He died almost instantly. He was about nine-

SENTENCES.

I am the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me, shall never die.—[8t. John, rl., 25, 26.

I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth. And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my feesh shall I see God; whom I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold, and not snother.—[Job. riz., 25, 26 27.

We brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. The Lord gave and the Lord—[1 Tim., vi., 7; Job., 1, 21.

Then shall follow the anthem in the burial service taken from the thirty-ninth and ninetisth pasims.

Here may follow an address, and after that the one hundred and thirtieth pealm, as follows:

The proclamation of Governor Bigelow will be found in another column. To-day Mayor Robertson will, we learn, issue a call to the citizens of New Haven. The tenor of it, we ascertain, will be as follows: Calling attention to the setting apart of Monday next, by President Arthur, as a day of humiliation and mourning, and the corresponding proclamation of the Governor. The address will recommend to our citizens the observance of the day and the abstaining from secular business, while also the church bells will be rung in the afternoon, the time not yet designated, and at sundown thirty-eight guns will be fired on the Green, one for each State in the Union. It will order the closing of the public buildings also, and the half-masting of the national flag on the liberty pole on the Green.

Many additional places were draped in mourning yesterday, principally private residence of the bride's parents on Farmington avenue, Hartford. Not only has the partition been removed and the two former stores thrown into one, but the first and second stories have also been made into one and an addition of about fifty feet erected in the rear. The new store will be lighted with electric lights and also plentifully supplied with gas. It is the largest clothing store in the State. It seems possible that such extensive business arrangements could only have been made by a firm which contemplated a permanent establishment in New Haven, and such we believe is the fact. We therefore give some items of interest respecting fore give some items of interest respecting the past history of the house. The firm of C. E. Longley & Co. is composed of only two partners, C. E. Longley and George N. Talbot. The former will have the active Talbot. The former will have the active charge of the management here and the latter will superintend the manufacture of the goods in Boston, where he is connected with the great wholesale house of Chamberlin & Currier, now occupying the magnificent new freestone building erected on the site of the old Marlboro Hotel. Among woolen manufacturers Mr. Talbot bears the reputation of being one of the best judges of woolen goods in the market, and is regarded as a man of excellent taste in their selection. The firm have three large stores in other cities; the Quinsigamond Clothing company in Worcester, Massachusetts, the Hartford One Price Clothing Co. in Hartford, Conn., and the Boston and Providence Clothing Co. in Providence R. Clothing Co. in Providence, R. I. The last named has been enlarged to about three times its original size since it was opened five years ago. At present the firm employ five bookkeepers, upwards of fifty salesmen, and a score of boys and porters. Manufacturing as they do for a large business, they have the great advantage of b-ing heavy buyers, and it stands to reason that they can benefit the people hereabouts with low prices. The Results of Neglect. A slight attack of cramps may bring on diarrhea, which is in many cases followed by inflammation of the stomach and a dozen other dangerous complaints, any one of which if neglected will cause death. All such disorders are dangerous in hot weather, and should in their infancy be treated with the best known remedy. The merits of Perry Davis' Pain Killer are so well know that it is recognized all over the world as the standard recognized all over the world as the standard specific for cramps, cholera morbus, cholera, diarrhœs and dysentery. All druggists sell the Pain Killer, and directions go with each
